

COOK'S LOG

Newsletter - October 16th 2020

Welcome back doesn't even go close to how excited the staff are to have our amazing students back onsite with us. We have missed them so, so much.

100% Attendance across the board! What an amazing effort. This means that every single student received an icy pole today. We have forgiven the very few late arrivals and early leavers this week while we all get back into the swing of things – YOU WERE HERE! This reward will be given every week for grades with 100% attendance.

After a couple of trial runs we will be running our James Cook PS assemblies at 9.10am Fridays. If parents would like to join us you can use this link: <https://eduvic.webex.com/meet/tidey.sandra.j>

School Photos – all orders for the James Cook Primary School 2020 School Photos Book MUST be in by next THURSDAY 22nd OCTOBER. Photos will be taken over the next week, so we ask that all students remain vigilant in presenting themselves at their best every day in their school uniform. Apart from the Year 6 Graduation Book, all books are the same. If you wish for your child/ren to have their own then multiple copies will need to be ordered.

Also, I hope you won't mind a last minute change to the school calendar? We were scheduled to have a Pupil-Free Curriculum Day on Monday 2nd November. We have however, decided that since we only just got our students back, we want them to keep coming. Instead, ALL students are expected to attend our 'Melbourne Cup Carnival' Dress Up day at school on Monday 2nd November. Frocks, fascinators, bow ties, jockey silks, horses, top hats – what takes your fancy.

Having observed some of the 'creative' parking and driving manoeuvres over the past week, I am impelled to share this communication I received this from the City of Casey

'With the return to onsite learning from Monday 12 October 2020, Council's Parking Compliance team will resume parking patrols around schools. For the week of 12 October 2020, Parking Compliance Officers will provide the school community with a grace period by focusing on parking education and ensuring that parents are refamiliarised with parking restrictions and other COVIDSAFE arrangements in place specific to your school.

Parking Compliance activity will resume to 'business as usual' from Monday 19 October 2020. However, during this grace period, Parking Compliance Officers will continue to enforce no stopping restrictions and any other offences that may put the school community at risk of injury.'

Who am I? – My name suggests I make you laugh. I have more  than answers.

Anne

I also said – "Haven't you ever heard of the healing power of laughter?"
